This intriguing release was tank fermented with NT 112 yeast and aged for 30 months in French oak barrels. It shows the deep, brooding color typical of the varietal and a nose displaying black current, plum and red berries. The palate is rich and plump with interwoven flavors of mixed black fruits and a deep, powerful finish with an elegant edge and a hint of bright raspberry. Extraordinarily well balanced with 5 to 10 years of aging potential.

Pair with a juicy steak, grilled game or charred rare salmon with a red wine reduction and cipollini onions.
